Polymeal™

The History:

The Polymeal concept originated as a diet-based approach to combatting heart disease by researchers at the University Medical Center in Rotterdam. They used statistical "meta-analysis" which combined the results of numerous studies to determine the ideal heart healthy diet. This research was done in response to the concept by Wald and Law in 2003 that suggested a "polypill" that would reduce CVD rates by more than 80% by combining 6 drugs that reduce different CV risk factors. Instead of 6 drugs, a group of researchers isolated six key foods (red wine, dark chocolate, garlic, omega-3, fruits, vegetables and raw almonds) that studies have consistently shown to reduce the risk of heart disease by approximately 76% and increase life expectancy — up to 6.6 years in men and 4.8 years in women! These six foods became known as the "Polymeal."

New Spirit Naturals Takes the Polymeal Concept to New Heights.

Formulated and developed by Dr. Larry Milam, our PolyMeal™ product contains over 170 nutritional ingredients including whole foods, amino acids, botanical extracts, juice powders, enzymes, electrolytes, omega fatty acids (EFA), nutraceuticals, proanthocyanidins, flavonoids, carotenoids, phytoestrogens, polyphenols, natural fibers, antioxidants, vitamins, prebiotics and probiotics, mineral and trace minerals.
